Police Athletics for Community Engagement

GRANTEE

Police Athletics for Community Engagement

OVERVIEW

The Police Athletics for Community Engagement (PACE Omaha) 21st Century Community Learning Centers project was designed after our mission statement to promote police community relations. We were fortunate to have the Completely Kids organization, the Omaha Police, Marris Middle School and Norris Middle School as our operations partners. The PACE Omaha program incorporated the education component offered by Completely Kids and the athletics component two days a week per school offered by PACE to create a learning and physical fitness experience for the youth. PACE also incorporated lectures from 10 police officers and gang specialists as part of our 8 week curriculum each semester to reinforce our message of making positive life choices for self-betterment. We used our "Identity Project" theme to promote positive relationships with other students, instructors and guest speakers. This was capped-off by a sports field trip to Campos Memorial Soccer Complex via bus where students could display the talents they learned in a friendly soccer match between Marris and Norris Schools. The youth were also treated to a celebratory meal after the event along with soccer uniforms and equipment supplied by the NDE grant and PACE Omaha.

FOCUS AREAS

The PACE Omaha Afterschool program focused on youth educational and physical development through classroom participation, group sports interaction and guest speaker lectures. This PACE Omaha identity project teaches the core values based on the acronym R.E.S.P.E.C.T. The youth are exposed to the concepts of reliability, enthusiasm, sportsmanship, positive attitude, the importance of education, commitment and teamwork. Through these core values, the youth learn the importance of making good life decisions to better themselves. They also see police officers in a different light as their role models and coaches.
