Text Entry

- The University of Nebraska - Industrial Agricultural Products Center will expand efforts to reach out to more entrepreneurs regarding opportunities to add value to agricultural based materials for brobased(?) products.
- current information to share with my high school students. The reminder that relationships & connections are so very important.
- Supporting and hopefully to become an entrepreneur.
- Hopefully be better support for entrepreneurs and develop my own entrepreneurship goal.
- Amazing opportunity, thank you very much. Can't wait for next year.
- Share the effectiveness of our program by seeking ways for students to "tell their story";
- I plan on more community based projects
- I plan to advocate for maker's spaces in our community.
- More public speaking!
- New ideas were gained through the sessions that will enhance my entrepreneurial camp.
- Continuing my efforts to engage economic and community developers in our shared vision to enhance Nebraska's economy through building sound entrepreneurial ecosystems in communities large and small.

Continue to network with others. Be bolder in asking for partnerships. Be more connected - we're all working for the same end goal.

Increase youth participation

Would be nice to offer decaf coffee in the morning

We will explore and provide more entrepreneurship opportunities for our high school students.

Implement career academies

Increase promotion; connecting businesses ready for transition with interns; work on my own startup.

We are planning on doing more entrepreneurship in the classrooms for school enrichment.

Andy-Kaufman: take steps to improve community supports to develop entrepreneurship ecosystems in rural Nebraska

Reaching out to other practitioners.

1. I always enjoy hearing from entrepreneurs; 2. Really enjoyed his big picture perspective.
Gained perspective
How to think about finding a problem within a small community
Confirming future business models
The presenter's "stories" provided real live examples.
I got a lot of ideas to use and made some great contacts as well.
The idea of a Maker's Space trailers - so elegant!
Knowledgeable and intriguing
Engaging, interesting, inspiring!
very motivational!
Great perspectives on entrepreneurship and Kauffman's current programs and focus points.
Very easy to listen to and had stories to back up his talk.
Learned about BP10
Explained program well
Like all three sessions
Practical Info.
Everything about it
Best keynote speaker ever!
See real examples of how...
1. Inspiration; 2. Nebraska isn't the only state with the same struggles
They are attempting to really individual learning for students
It gave me information on how to develop entrepreneurs in Nebraska and to make an impact.
We heard from actual entrepreneurs - their pitfalls, their successes, what they still need

Thank you for offering it in Kearney! Definitely gives a different geographic location of people the opportunity to get this information.

Team building

Enthusiasm from participants

Very informative (snacks were a plus!)

The Panel

Networking/learning of others' ideas & programs.

Networking

Networking oppourtunities

The networking & Andy & Lisa's keynotes - nice work!

the networking and diverse crowd

Hearing the message that entrepreneurship is really about collaboration as opposed to cut throat competition. This is a paradigm shift in business.

Networking

The focus of entrepreneurship.

Andy Stoll talk

Networking, networking, networking

The great networking!

The range of sessions and the opportunities to network.

Opening Speaker

Keynote - Andy Stoll

Collaboration

The keynote speaker and the networking with others

networking; hearing stories of Eship from founders and how resource providers can do better

The new ideas

Networking - new in my position so this helped put contract in my toolbox.

Very organized and the sessions were all very beneficial.

Networking with others

Q. Please provide your suggestions for 2018 EBPS Summit (speakers, topics, logistics, etc.)

Text Entry

I understand you probably have lower attendance, but I really do appreciate you providing this opportunity in Kearney.

I would like to see more on the agriculture entrepreneurship. Tom Field at UNL does an excellent job working with youth. Agriculture is the sustainer of everyday living, we need to focus on how to get more involved as we become more mechanized.

Where were the rural agriculture entrepreneurs?

Comments from above - summit start was fuzzy
Encourage more group activities for networking 0 Circle set-up in breakout sessions

How to use social media / web design for entrepreneurs - missed social media workshop today.

Keep up the GREAT work!

Keep up the fabulous work!

Have Andy Stoll back and have him do breakout sessions.

Mobile app would not load.

Add some high school exemplars into the breakout sessions

More of the same

Great job with the Keynote speakers!

My schedule didn't allow me to stay for the entire day, so maybe I just missed this, but it would be great to receive contact information/resources from the speakers in a followup email or some sort of correspondence.

We need more people there. These are great sessions and this is such an important topic but there needs to be more people to hear the speakers, etc. More promotion across the state. Please do not schedule it the same day as the Nebraska Community Foundation Annual Training and Dinner. I think this has happened a couple of years now. There are so many communities that would love to hear this messaging, but they are already committed to that event.

promote specific topics (Eship stories) to politicians (i.e. state legislators) so they understand the value of what we're doing. This take delegated planning and effort on conference organizers but very important.

Andy Stoll return.
Defy Ventures - Entrepreneur Training in Prison system

Perhaps more time to ask some of the entrepreneurs questions and such.

Excellent conference - liked the variety of breakouts - just wish I could have heard them all.
