Students are succeeding—partnership between school boards, teachers, and administration is very positive. Important to include NASB in changes going on in education. Rule 24 Endorsements / Ad Hoc Updates – Madsen, NDE

- First Hearing – Proposed Work-Based Learning endorsement (formerly Cooperative Education / Diversified Occupations)--Rich Katt, NDE State Director, Career Education;
Schools are reengaging this coursework because businesses are requesting it. Businesses are offering internships, especially to high school seniors. Required course hours were dropped from 6 hours to 3 hours. The legal issues (Fair Labor Standards Act, etc.) are the main impetus of this course. Wandzilak—Can one course cover Industrial Technology and Agriculture Education? R. Katt-- Are looking for the supervisor to be able to cover both and provide a safe, effective educational experience for students. Should be a meaningful work experience for students. This provides technical skills that students need with on-the-job experiences. Get students into good work-based learning situations. Special Education is also being revised to work with this this endorsement as well.
- First Hearing – Proposed School Counselor Endorsement – Donna Hoffman, NDE School Counseling Specialist;
The Guidelines for this endorsement have changed—are proposing a more direct focus to be a good school counselor. In the rule section the requirement for 2 years of teaching experience has been removed. It will allow additional candidates with Counseling Masters degree (but no teaching certificate) to get the endorsement with an additional 12 hours of teacher education coursework. Must also take Human Relations and SPED coursework, (not part of 12 hours) which is in certification requirements. Would this be a teaching certificate, then? Feinstein suggested we review this in 3-5 years. Habrock—How would this be done? Rule 10—Who can be a mental health practitioner and how does this affect accreditation process?—J. Sears.
- Ad Hoc Dates – Career Education Area endorsements
